3.2. The Commission may also wish to consider the following suggestions for future agenda items for meetings of the Commission:

- ◆ Monitoring protocol: this would look at how updates would be provided to the Commission on the progress of the CWB action plan, including what the frequency of monitoring would be (e.g., at Q2 and Q4) and presentation format, e.g., using the standard approach available via the council's IMPROVe system or alternatively a version of the action plan with additional columns for status and update information.
- ◆ Engagement with other CWB projects: this would look at the broader context of CWB in Scotland and the UK, particularly at good practice, lessons to be learned, and potential synergies with our work in South Lanarkshire. This could be a standing item for future meetings to keep Commission members abreast of relevant projects and developments such as City Region work.
- ◆ CWB Risk register: this would focus on agreeing the key risks associated with the CWB strategy and then monitoring via an annual report the status of the risks and mitigations in place for the Strategy.
- ◆ Strategy Development: this would consider how the CWB strategy can continue to be developed and its scope widened to involve and include a wide range of stakeholders and partners as well as the council.
- ◆ CWB Awareness and Communications: this would look at proposals for raising awareness around CWB as well as methods for ongoing dissemination of information to a wide audience via web, social media and other channels.
